

Watching for Pa.
Three little forms in twilight gray
Scanning the shadows across the way;
Six little eyes, four black and two blue,
Brimful of love and happiness too,
Watching for pa.

May with her plaid and thoughtful brow,
Gentle face beaming with smiles just now;
Willie, the rogue, so loving and gay,
Stealing six kisses from sister May,
Watching for pa.

Nellie, with ringlets of sunny hue,
Coily nestled between the two,
Pressing her close to the window pane
Wishing the absent one home again—
Watching for pa.

How they hate the passer by
He's coming at last!" they only cry.
"Try again my pets," exclaims mama,
And Nellie adds, "There's the twilight star
Watching for pa."

Jack nods and smiles, as with busy feet
He lights the lamps of their quiet street;
That sweet little group he knows full well,
May and Willie and golden-haired Nell,
Watching for pa.

Soon joyous shouts from the window seat,
An eager pattering of childhood feet:
Gay musical chimes ring through the hall—
A mazy waltz, a reel, a gavotte,
"Watching for pa."

Emigration to Brazil.

From the New York Herald.

An agency for the transportation of emigrants to Brazil has been recently opened in Broadway. It is situated directly opposite the office of the Brazilian Consulate, and is said to be acting under its authorization. It promises, by advertisements and bills profusely distributed, a free passage and "homesteads," the extent of which, however, is not specified. The temptations thus held out have attracted large numbers of the poorer classes, and the entrance to the office is crowded from morning till night. From circumstances that have transpired, and especially from the fact that the applicants are required to sign an obligation for the payment of fifty dollars, it would seem that the passage is not free, as stated in the bills. If there is any doubt on this point it should be at once cleared up in the interest of those who trust to these promises. There are precedents in the conduct of the Brazilian government towards the German emigrants—who have been forced to enter the Brazilian army or to work as porters at miserable wages—which suggests doubts whether there offers are not made to entrap recruits for the bloody campaign now being waged in Paraguay, or at least to secure laborers at the same starvation rates. The news just received from Paraguay is of a character to suggest caution on the part of emigrants before they accept the inducements held out to them in the bills of the Brazilian agency. If the doubts suggested are not well founded they ought at once to be set at rest by the official reiteration of them on the part of the Brazilian Consul.
